

Amy E. Romig
Partner

The focus of Amy Romig's practice is environmental and natural resource counseling and the Indiana Orders and Procedures Act ("AOPA"). She regularly represents clients in permitting, enforcement actions, and other adversarial proceedings before the Indiana Office of Environmental Adjudication and other administrative tribunals. Amy also has experience in representing environmental clients in trial and appellate forums. For example, in Board of Com'rs of LaPorte County v. Great Lakes Transfer, LLC, 888 N.E.2d 784 (Ind. Ct. App. 2008) Amy successfully defended a solid waste processing facility permit through administrative, judicial review, and appellate proceedings resulting in a favorable appellate opinion interpreting many AOPA issues.

Contact

By Phone (317) 637-0700 x227
aromig@psrb.com

Education

J.D., 2000, magna cum laude, Indiana University School of Law, Bloomington

M.S., 2000, (Environmental Sciences), Indiana University School of Public and Environmental Affairs, Bloomington

B.S., 1995, with highest honors (Chemical Engineering), J.B. Speed Scientific School, University of Louisville, Louisville

Licensure

State of Indiana, 2000

Commonwealth of Kentucky, 2000

United States District Court for the Northern District of Indiana, 2000

United States District Court for the Southern District of Indiana, 2000

Amy counsels clients on a broad variety of air, water, solid waste, underground storage tank, natural resource, and other environmental issues. She assists clients with cleanups performed under Indiana's Voluntary Cleanup and other state and federal cleanup programs. Amy's litigation successes include obtaining class certification on behalf of owners of property impacted by ethanol emissions from a distillery and resultant mold growth.

Amy's bar association contributions include serving as Newsletter Editor (2007-2008) and Treasurer (2008-2009) of the Indiana State Bar Association's Environmental Law Section. She is an At-Large Member of the Indianapolis Bar Association's Environmental Law Section for the 2009 term. Amy is also a graduate of the 2006-2007 Indianapolis Bar Association Leader Series.

Amy graduated first in her Chemical Engineering Class from J.B. Speed Scientific School, University of Louisville in 1995. Amy graduated, magna cum laude, from the Indiana University School of Law, Bloomington in 2000 with a joint M.S. degree in Environmental Sciences from the Indiana University School of Public and Environmental Affairs. Amy joined the firm in 2000 as an associate and was made a partner in 2009.