

Angela M. (Dorrell) Green
Associate

Angela M. (Dorrell) Green focuses her practice on litigation and legislative and regulatory issues in environmental law and insurance coverage. Before joining the firm, Angela worked for the Mitch Daniels for Governor Campaign Committee and Transition Team, the Indiana House of Representatives and served as the Indiana Executive Director of the 2000 George W. Bush presidential campaign. Angela received her B.A. degree in political science from Indiana University, Indianapolis in 2003, and her J.D. from Indiana University School of Law-Indianapolis in 2006. Among other honors that Angela has received, the Indiana University Alumni Association chose her for their “30 Under 30” honor in 2004, and she was selected as a member of the 2009-2010 class of the Indianapolis Bar Leader Series.

As an active member of the bar, Angela co-chairs the American Bar Association’s Environmental Litigation Section Sub-committee on Insurance and previously co-chaired the Bankruptcy and Environmental Claims and the Indiana State Bar Association’s Environmental Section Legislative Committee. She is also a member of the Government Affairs Society of Indiana and has been both an executive and legislative lobbyist.
